Man's Greatest Fear: The Final Phase of Human Evolution Tim Marshall

MAN'S GREATEST FEAR examines the fears of man which drive him to dominate woman, destroy his environment, and slaughter his own kind in war. The psychological defenses of man, which prevent him from facing his fears and thus changing his destructive behavior, are also identified and explained. In conclusion, Dr. Marshall maintains that woman's quest must not be for equality with man, but instead for control of his destructive nature if the human species is to avoid extinction.
