When Chloe Hening opens the front door, she stifles a gasp, for before her is possibly the best-looking man she has ever met-tall, at least six feet three inches, with large green eyes flecked with hazel and a beautifully sculpted nose and mouth. Braden Willis is wealthy and cultured, and his passion for Chloe disrupts her quiet existence in Pentwater. A golden life in Chicago beckons. But first Chloe needs to free herself and her family from the heartache brought about by the events of the black summer nine years before. A promise Chloe made to her sister before she died must now be broken in order for the Hening family to move forward and for Chloe to find love-again.
