NO TIME FOR TRUTH...

'Amazing work. Very, very impressive.'

Thrill a minute, adult non-stop action, with characters you will hate to love, and love to hate - plus a dash of theoretical physics and a bit of philosophy for added spice.

Life as a mathematician working on a new theory of physics has ill-prepared Christine Reynolds for the chaos that ensues when her boss, Dr Lineker, goes missing. Assisted by a troubled ex-soldier, she devises an ingenious way to rescue him. But although she knows she is running out of time, she remains unaware that time itself may no longer be running sequentially, or that - in ten days' time - she will be killed.

'Just finished reading MindField: a Science Thriller by Tim Dub. Definitely not my usual genre. But I had to finish it. Enthralling, intellectually stimulating and frequently heart thumping. Do feel like I have been through the ringer but no regrets!! Amazing work. Very, very impressive.'
